Investment Term

of the worst performing Underlying is less than 65% of its Opening Level (representing a decline of more than 35% from the Opening Level), your Initial Capital will be lost at a rate of 1% for every 1% that the Final Level of the worst performing Underlying is below its Opening Level.

HOW DOES THIS PLAN WORK?

It is important to understand the features of any investment product before you decide whether to invest in it. The information set out below is to help you decide whether this Plan meets your investment needs.

Any subscription will be invested in Securities issued by the Counterparty, which are designed to have the characteristics required to achieve the investment objectives of the Plan. The Potential Investment Return and return of any capital from the Plan are linked to the performance of the Underlying.

Potential Investment Returns during the Investment Term

A Potential Investment Return is paid quarterly over the Investment Term if the respective Closing Level of the worst performing Underlying, on any Coupon Observation Date, is at or above the Coupon Barrier. In this event an investor will receive the Potential Investment Return. Otherwise, no Potential Investment Return will be paid at that Coupon Observation Date.

Return at Maturity

The return of your Initial Capital at the Final Observation Date is based on the performance of the Underlyings.

If the Final Level of both Underlyings is at or above the Capital at Risk Barrier, you will receive 100% of your Initial Capital.

Otherwise, capital is at risk at Maturity if either of the Underlying closes below the Capital at Risk Barrier in which case investors will receive the Initial Capital decreased by the performance of the worst performing Underlying, thus resulting in a partial or total loss of their Initial Capital.

The table below outlines the dates the income payments are due to be received from the Counterparty.

Observation Dates

Observation Date	Payment Date	Observation Date	Payment Date
16 April 2026	30 April 2026	16 April 2030	2 May 2030

The day after the Observation Date, the Issuer will confirm whether an Investment Return is due to be paid. If so, the Issuer will pay it to us on the Payment Date, and this will then be remitted via the BACS system within five business days of us receiving it from the Issuer. This should result in cleared funds being received into your bank account two days later.

Kick-Out Observation Dates

Observation Date	Payment Date	Observation Date	Payment Date
17 January 2028	31 January 2028	16 January 2031	30 January 2031
16 January 2029	30 January 2029	16 January 2032	30 January 2032
16 January 2030	30 January 2030	17 January 2033	31 January 2033

IMPORTANT:

If the Closing Level of the Underlying is not published by the Index Sponsor on either the Investment Start Date or the Final Observation Date, the next Scheduled Trading Day will be used to determine the Closing Level of the Underlying. You could lose some or all your investment if the Counterparty were to fail or become insolvent.

Possible early maturity during the Investment Term

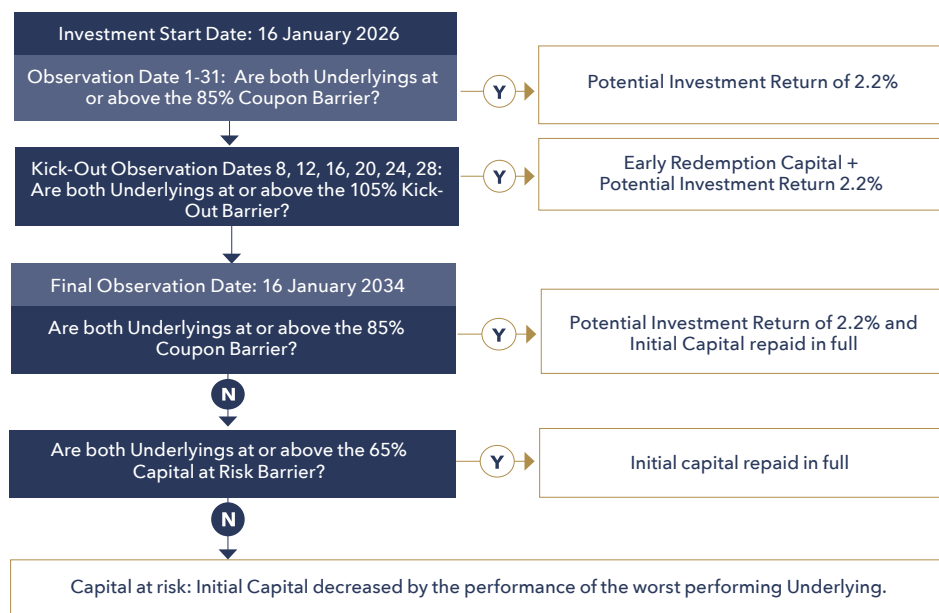

The Plan has a feature that allows it to mature early/kick-out on specific Observation Dates. This can happen if the Closing Level of each Underlying is equal to or above the respective Kick-Out Barrier on an Observation Date. If this occurs, you will receive your Initial Capital back, plus a Potential Investment Return, and the Plan will end.

However, if the respective Closing Level of either of the Underlying is below the respective Kick-Out Barrier, the Plan will continue to the next Observation Date.

Where the Plan has not matured early and runs for the Investment Term, your capital may be at risk and there will be a capital loss if the Final Level of the worst performing Underlying is below the Capital at Risk Barrier.

POTENTIAL INVESTMENT RETURN EXPLAINED

Below is a payoff diagram demonstrating how this Plan works:

THE RISK TO YOUR CAPITAL

Where the Plan has not matured early and runs for the full Investment Term, there will be a capital loss if the Final Level of the worst performing Underlying is below the Capital at Risk Barrier on the Final Observation Date.

There are three possible scenarios for the Maturity Date:

1. If the Final Level of both Underlyings is at or above the Coupon Barrier, you will receive 100% of your Initial Capital plus a Potential Investment Return.
2. If the Final Level of the Underlyings is below the Coupon Barrier, but above the Capital at Risk Barrier, you will receive 100% of your Initial Capital but no Potential Investment Return.
3. If, however, the Final Level of the worst performing Underlying is below the Capital at Risk Barrier your Initial Capital will be reduced by 1% for every 1% the Final Level is below the Opening Level.

The table below shows some examples of repayment of your Initial Capital and Potential Investment Return in a range of scenarios for the Plan. Examples are based on an Initial Capital Investment of £10,000.

Final Level of the worst performing Underlying in relation to its Opening Level	Is the Final Level of the worst performing Underlying below the Capital at Risk Barrier?	Amount of your Initial Capital repaid to you	Investment Return you will receive from your investment
-20%	No	£10,000	£220.00
-35%	No	£10,000	£0
-36%	Yes	£6,400	£0
-75%	Yes	£2,500	£0

IMPORTANT: The table does not give predictions of what we believe an investor might receive. It is designed to illustrate how the return of the money invested in the Plan is calculated. You should be aware that you could lose all your money. Irrespective of the performance of any Underlying, your Initial Investment and the potential returns from the Plan are at risk if the Counterparty were to fail or become insolvent.

THE UNDERLYING

Your money is not invested directly into the Underlying. However, as a repayment of your Initial Capital is dependent on the performance of the Underlying, it is important to understand what it is and how it could affect your money.

FTSE 100 Index

The FTSE 100 Index is a capitalization-weighted index made up of the top 100 UK-listed companies by market capitalisation, traded on the London Stock Exchange. THE UNDERLYING

EuroStoxx 50 Index®

EXAMPLE: The table below illustrates the required level of the Underlyings on the corresponding Observation Dates for the Plan to produce a Potential Investment Return.

Underlying	Opening Level	Coupon Barrier Level required for Potential Investment Return	Kick-Out Level required for Early Redemption
FTSE 100 Index	9600	8160	10080
EuroStoxx 50 Index	5500	4675	5775

Please note the levels quoted above are for illustrative purposes only. The actual Opening Level of the Underlyings will be set on the Start Date of the Plan.

IMPORTANT: Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and should not be used to assess the future returns or risks associated with this Plan. It is important to note that you will not be entitled to receive the dividends that could normally be available if you had invested directly in the shares of the companies constituting the Indices.

RISKS INVOLVED IN THE PLAN

Counterparty Risk

By investing in this Plan, you are taking a credit risk with the Counterparty. It is their responsibility to make the payment of any return of capital and income payments due from the Investments. However, in the event of bankruptcy or payment default by the Counterparty, you may be exposed to a partial or total loss of capital.

Market Risk

If a global economic recession occurs, the financial markets may become much weaker. The markets can also be disrupted by political or climatic events. Changes in economic policies, tax rates, or interest rates can affect the performance of the Underlying.

Inflation Risk

The value of your investment and any returns you may qualify for are not linked to inflation. If inflation is high over the term of the Plan, the real value of the Plan may decrease thus affecting the real value of any returns you may receive.

Early Redemption Risk

If you sell your investment early, you may get less Initial Capital back. You may not be able to sell your Plan easily or must sell at a price that will impact how much return you get back.

Liquidity Risk

The Issuer of the Securities and/or Counterparty aims to provide, but cannot guarantee, a secondary market for the Securities during the Investment Term. However, certain market circumstances may have a negative impact on the liquidity of the Securities and result in the partial or total loss of your initial capital.

Subscription Risk

If the Plan is oversubscribed your application may not be accepted, and any payments received in excess of the total trade size initially agreed will be returned.

Regulatory risk

Under the EU Bank Recovery and Resolution Directive (BRRD), national supervisory bodies have certain powers to intervene with failing financial institutions which they determine could cause financial instability or public harm. If the Counterparty becomes subject to this resolution, your investment may be early redeemed, cancelled or converted into equity amongst other measures which could adversely affect the value of these securities.

FEES AND CHARGES

Causeway Fees

Our costs and charges for managing, marketing and administering the Plan have been factored into the structure of the Plan and the returns the Plan is designed to pay. These charges equate to 1.25% of your Initial Capital. No charges are deducted from your Initial Capital or from any potential returns you may receive from investment in the Plan, instead they are paid to us by the Counterparty. The exact amount can be affected by various factors during the offer period.

Adviser Fee

Causeway Securities requires that applications to invest in the Plan are submitted through a regulated financial adviser. The amount of any Adviser Fee payable for their service is something you should discuss and agree with your adviser.

You may instruct payment of an agreed initial Adviser Fee from the money you sent with your application. If you want to do this, you should include the amount and instruct Causeway Securities in your application. Causeway Securities will pay the Adviser Fee, deducted from the money you have sent, to your adviser's firm.

The amount of any Adviser Fee must be set out in your application. If you change your mind about investing after your application has been accepted, it is likely that your Adviser Fee has already been paid to your financial adviser and Causeway Securities will not be able to return the authorised Adviser Fee to you.

IMPORTANT: For your own benefit and protection, you should read the brochure and all of the Terms and Conditions relevant to this Plan before completing the Application Form. If you do not understand any point, please ask your financial adviser for further information.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQ'S)

How much am I able to invest?

The minimum Investment amount is £3,000. The full amount will be invested in the Plan unless you have instructed a payment to be made to your adviser as a fee from this amount. The amount invested will then be the full amount minus the adviser fee.

You can invest through an ISA. For the 2025/26 tax year the ISA allowance is £20,000. The 2025/26 tax year runs from 6 April 2025 until 5 April 2026.

Can I change my mind?

Yes. You have the right to change your mind and cancel your investment. You will be issued with a cancellation notice when your Plan Application is accepted.

If you want to cancel your Application, we must receive your completed cancellation notice within 14 days from the date they send it to you. Cancellation notices should be addressed to Causeway Securities Limited PO Box 1378, St Albans, AL1 9SX.

If we receive your cancellation notice prior to the Start Date, we will cancel your Application for the Plan and you will receive a refund of your Initial Capital (in other words, your Payment less any Adviser Fee that has been authorised).

If we receive your cancellation notice after the Start Date, we will cash in your Plan, and you will receive the market value of the Plan on the date that we complete your cancellation instruction. This may be less than you invested if the value of the Plan has fallen.

If I cancel my investment, what happens to any Adviser Fee?

If you decide to cancel your investment, we may have already taken and paid your authorised Adviser Fee to your adviser. This means that you would need to contact your adviser to discuss whether they can return the fee to you.

What happens if the Plan is oversubscribed?

When a Plan is in the process of being constructed, an initial trade size is agreed between Causeway Securities and the Issuer of the Securities. The amount of investments received and the amount raised is closely monitored and when approaching the initial trade size, Causeway Securities discusses increasing the size of the trade with the Issuer of the Securities to accommodate any additional investments.

On occasion, the two parties may be unable to agree on viable terms to increase the trade size and as a result, the initial trade size may represent the maximum amount that can be accepted into the Plan. In this instance, the Plan will be closed early, and any Payments received in excess of the total trade size initially agreed will be returned to the Investor.

What information will I receive?

You will receive an annual statement on the value of the Plan. This document will be made available via the Client Portal on our website. Access rights to the site will be forwarded to you by us.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQ'S)

Can I cash in my Plan before it matures?

Yes, you may encash some or all of your Plan before the Maturity Date but take into consideration the fact that Potential Investment Returns are structured on the basis that the Plan runs until Maturity. An early encashment may result in you receiving an amount that is less than you originally invested. You may encash your Plan by providing us your written instruction to that effect.

We allow partial withdrawals, but there is a minimum withdrawal amount of £500. The repayment of your Initial Capital when the Plan matures will be based on the amount you have left invested in the Plan.

The proceeds will then be repaid to you as per your instructions or in the case of an ISA, retained in your ISA. Please refer to clause 8 of the Plan Terms and Conditions for more information on early encashment.

What happens if I die?

Single applicants: If you die before the Plan matures, your estate can choose whether to cash in the Plan or transfer ownership to a beneficiary. If the Plan is cashed in, we will pay the market value as of the date we sell your Plan. If your estate chooses to transfer ownership to a beneficiary, the Plan will continue until it matures. In all cases, the Plan will be managed in line with the instructions provided by your personal representatives or as part of probate or administration.

Joint applicants: Plans held jointly by a married couple will transfer automatically to the name of the surviving partner. For other joint applicants, the Plan will be managed in line with the instructions provided by your personal representatives or as part of probate or administration.

What should I do if I want to complain?

We have a comprehensive complaints procedure that adheres to the principles of treating customers fairly. If you wish to make a complaint, this can be made verbally, by telephone or in person, or via a written communication delivered in person, via post, e-mail or fax. In the first instance, the complaint will be handled by our Complaints Officer, who will conduct an initial investigation and attempt to reach a fair and impartial conclusion.

If you are not satisfied with the way your complaint is dealt with you can refer your complaint, free of charge, to the Financial Ombudsman Service at Exchange Tower, London, E14 9SR Telephone: 0800 023 4567 Website: www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk

Referring to a complaint does not prejudice your right to take legal action.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQ'S)

What happens if Causeway Securities becomes insolvent?

Causeway Securities is responsible for designing, promoting, distributing and administering the Plan and monitors the performance of the Plan throughout its term. Therefore, when submitting an application to invest you will be agreeing to become a client of Causeway Securities. The client relationship will be between you as the client and us. We will be responsible for providing all documentation and making payments to clients from the application stage to Maturity.

Causeway Securities is responsible for administering your investment on your behalf for the term of the Plan. Strict rules relating to the administration of client monies and assets dictate that there must be segregation between a client's holdings and that of the company acting as custodian. Therefore, should we encounter any financial difficulty, neither your money nor your investments should be affected. Your payment will be held in cash prior to the purchase of your investment and following its maturity.

During these periods, your money will be held in a segregated client money bank account with an authorised and regulated Bank or Building Society. In the unlikely event that we would enter administration during either the period prior to the purchase of the securities or after the maturity of the Plan, your money will be returned to you by the insolvency practitioner. Should we enter administration during the term of the Plan the insolvency practitioner would facilitate the transfer of your investment to an alternative administrator and custodian. In the event of any shortfall in the client monies or the nominee position in relation to your investment held by Causeway Securities under current regulation up to £85,000 will be covered for each investor by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). For more information, please refer to Clause 28 in the Plan Terms and Conditions.

If you have additional questions, please contact your financial adviser.
