WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND WHAT COULD I GET IN RETURN?

Summary Risk Indicator

← →
Lower Risk Higher Risk

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until 19 July 2032. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to sell your product easily or you may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back. The tax legislation of the United-Kingdom may have an impact on the actual payout.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class. This takes into consideration two elements: 1) the market risk - that rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-low level; and 2) the credit risk which estimates that poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the capacity of the Issuer and the Guarantor to pay you. You will receive payments in the product's currency, which may be different from your domestic currency. In this case, be aware of currency risk. The final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. You are entitled to receive back at least 34.92% of your capital. Any amount over this, and any additional return, depends on future market performance and is uncertain. However, this protection against future market performance will not apply if you cash-in before 19 July 2032. If the Issuer and the Guarantor are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE INFORMATION

Factors affecting the return of the product at the end of the recommended holding period

Your return on the product at the end of the recommended holding period will principally be affected by (1) the performance of the underlyings over the recommended holding period and (2) the issuer's creditworthiness, which can have a material impact on your return if, for example, the issuer is unable to make payments that become due on the product.

What could affect my return positively?

- An increase in the level of the underlyings

What could affect my return negatively?

- A decrease in the level of the underlyings
- The occurrence of a Barrier Event
- The manufacturer's inability to make the payments due

The factors listed above provide general guidance on how changes in the level of the underlyings may affect your return if you hold the product to maturity. The precise impact will depend on the timing and magnitude of these changes, and the list above should not be viewed as guaranteeing a particular outcome. See "What is this product?" for a discussion of how the payments you may receive during the life of the product and/or at the end of the recommended holding period will be calculated.

In severely adverse market conditions, if you hold the product to the end of the recommended holding period, you may lose your entire investment. This does not take into account a situation where the issuer is unable to pay you.

Additional factors affecting the price of the product in the secondary market

In addition to the factors discussed above, the performance of the product in the secondary market will also be affected by the volatility of the levels of the underlyings, the product's remaining time to maturity, the actual and perceived ability of the manufacturer and its guarantor to meet their obligations, interest rates, exchange rates and the dividend yield of the underlyings and the correlation between the various underlyings.

If you sell the product in severely adverse market conditions prior to maturity, your return may be lower than what you would have received if you held the product to the end of the recommended holding period and may be as low as zero. See "How long should I hold it and can I take money out early" below for additional information.

WHAT HAPPENS IF NATIXIS IS UNABLE TO PAY OUT?

If the Issuer and the Guarantor become subject to resolution measures in the form of the bail-in tool ("bail-in"), your claim may be reduced to zero, converted into equity or its maturity may be postponed. This product is not protected by any investor compensation or guarantee scheme. If the Issuer and the Guarantor are unable to make a payment and/or are in default, you may lose some or all of your invested amount and any payment may be delayed.

WHAT ARE THE COSTS?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product and how well the product does. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.
- GBP 10,000 is invested.

Investment GBP 10,000	If you exit after 1 year	If you exit after 6 years
Total costs	GBP 183	GBP 133
Annual cost impact (*)	1.9%	0.2% each year

HOW LONG SHOULD I HOLD IT AND CAN I TAKE MY MONEY OUT EARLY?

Recommended holding period: 6 years.

The recommended holding period corresponds with the maturity date of the product, as the product is designed to be held until then. Any recommendation regarding the holding period may be irrelevant for a speculative investor. For investors purchasing the product for hedging purposes the holding period depends on the holding period of the underlying risk.

Natixis may provide an indicative price of the product to holders who so request. The spread between the purchase price and the sale price will not be greater than 1%. If you want to sell this product before the Maturity Date, the price of the product will depend on market parameters at the time you wish to sell. In this case you may sustain a partial or total capital loss. More information available upon request.
