IMPORTANT:
This Plan is an investment called a structured product. A structured product is an investment where financial contracts are packaged together to define, at the outset, the conditions for what, how and when it pays. What a customer gets from a structured product is usually dependent on the performance of a stock market or stock markets, known as Underlying. This means that they can be designed to match a customer's view on what those markets will do in the future. The Plan is not capital protected. You must be prepared to lose some or all of your Initial Investment. This must be read in conjunction with the Key Information Document (KID) prepared by Société Générale.

The underlying investments for this Plan (the Securities) are issued by Société Générale.

The following information has not been prepared by the Issuer of the Securities, or any of their respective Directors, officers, or agents. The Issuer of the Securities makes no representation or warranty, and accepts no responsibility or liability, to any party in relation to the information provided in this Brochure.

A maximum of 10 years. However, the Plan has the potential to mature early (kick-out) on a quarterly Observation Date from year three onwards.

The first Observation Date on which an early maturity could be triggered will be 30 November 2029.

Capital at Risk Barrier
If on the Final Observation Date, the Closing Level of the Underlying is less than 50% of its Opening Level (representing a decline of more than 50% from the Opening Level), your Initial Investment will be lost at a rate of 1% for every 1% that the Final Level of the Underlying is below its Opening Level.

If the Counterparty were to fail or become insolvent, you could lose some or all your investment and any return that may be due, irrespective of the performance of the Underlying.

HOW DOES THIS PLAN WORK?

It is important to understand the features of any investment product before you decide whether to invest in it. The information set out below is to help you decide whether this Plan meets your investment needs.

Possible early maturity during the Investment Term

The Plan has the potential to mature early (kick-out) on specific Observation Dates.

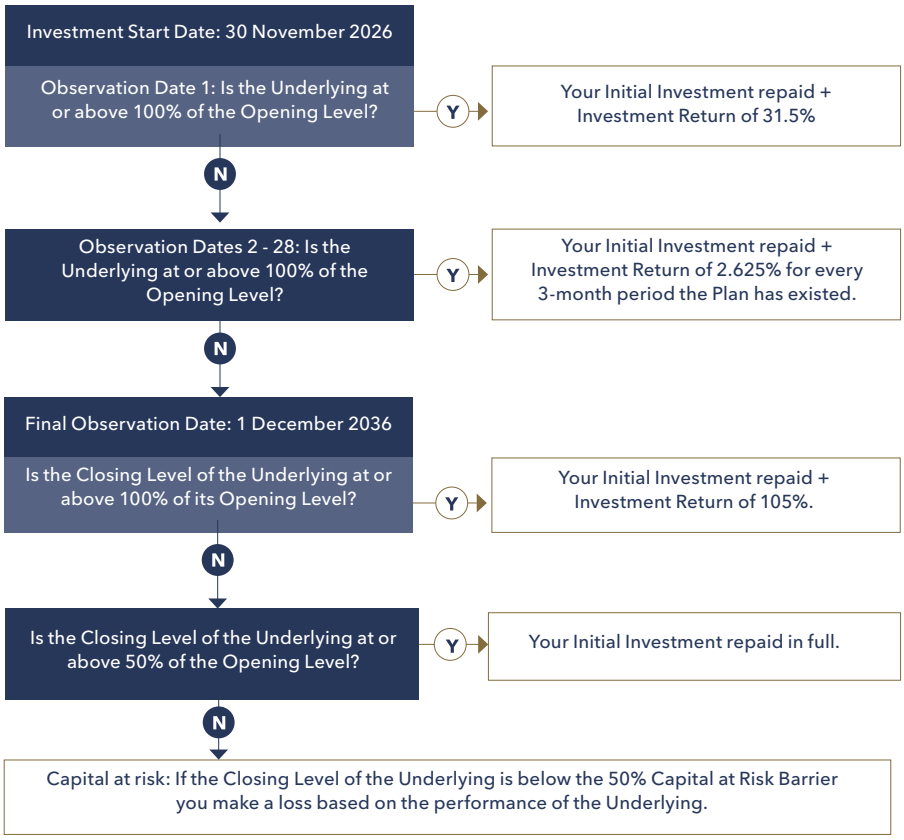

If the Closing Level of the Underlying is at or above the required Kick-Out Barrier on an Observation Date, the Plan will mature early, and you will receive your Initial Investment back plus the Investment Return stated in the diagram.

However, if the respective Closing Level of the Underlying is below the required Kick-Out Barrier, the Plan will continue to the next Observation Date.

Where the Plan has not matured early and runs for the full Investment Term, your capital may be at risk and there will be a capital loss if the Final Level of the Underlying is below the Capital at Risk Barrier.

THE RISK TO YOUR CAPITAL

Where the Plan has not matured early and runs for the full Investment Term, there will be a capital loss if the Final Level of the Underlying is below the Capital at Risk Barrier on the Final Observation Date.

There are three possible scenarios for the Maturity Date:

1. If the Final Level of the Underlying is at or above the Kick-Out Barrier, you will receive 100% of your Initial Investment plus an Investment Return.

2. If the Final Level of the Underlying is below the Kick-Out Barrier, but at or above the Capital at Risk Barrier, you will receive 100% of your Initial Investment but no Investment Return.

3. If, however, the Final Level of the Underlying is below the Capital at Risk Barrier your Initial Investment will be reduced by 1% for every 1% the Final Level is below the Opening Level.

The table below shows some examples of repayment of your Initial Investment and Potential Investment Return in a range of scenarios for the Plan. Examples are based on an Initial Investment of £10,000.

Final Level of the Underlying in relation to its Opening Level	Is the Final Level of the Underlying below the Capital at Risk Barrier?	Amount of your Initial Investment repaid to you	Return you will receive from your investment
+10%	No	£10,000	£10,500
0%	No	£10,000	£10,500
-5%	No	£10,000	£0
-30%	No	£10,000	£0
-50%	No	£10,000	£0
-51%	Yes	£4,900	£0
-70%	Yes	£3,000	£0

IMPORTANT: The table does not give predictions of what we believe an investor might receive. It is designed to illustrate how the return of the money invested in the Plan is calculated. You should be aware that you could lose all your money. Irrespective of the performance of any Underlying, your Initial Investment and the potential returns from the Plan are at risk if the Counterparty were to fail or become insolvent.

THE UNDERLYING

FTSE 100 Equally Weighted 45 Point Decrement Index (UKEWD45)

The FTSE 100 EW45 is a custom index developed and maintained by FTSE Russell. It is a synthetic index designed for use in structured investment products. This index is not the same as the FTSE 100 Index. Although both indexes track the performance of the same shares, they work differently in two important ways:

1. Every company is given the same weight in the index.
2. A fixed 45 point deduction (Fixed Dividend Amount) is taken off the index each year.

The performance of the FTSE 100 EW45 may differ significantly from the performance of the FTSE 100 Index.

What is an 'equal weight' index?
Unlike the FTSE 100, which weights companies by market capitalisation, the FTSE 100 EW45 assigns each constituent a fixed 1% weight at each quarterly rebalance. This means the largest companies collectively represent a smaller share of the index compared to the market cap weighted approach.

What is meant by '45 point decrement'?
While the FTSE 100 is a price return index that excludes dividends, the FTSE 100 EW45 reinvests dividends paid by the companies but the index deducts the equivalent of 45 index points per year from its performance. This deduction is applied gradually on a daily basis throughout the year. The fixed decrement may allow product providers to structure investment products with higher potential coupons compared to products linked to the standard FTSE 100 Index.

For example, if the index level is 1000, the 45-point decrement, in percentage terms, is equivalent to 4.5%.

- If the index were to rise 25% to 1250, the 45 points would be equivalent to 3.6% of the index level.
- If the index were to fall 25% to 750, the 45 points would be equivalent to 6% of the Index level.

It is important that you carefully consider the current level of the FTSE 100 EW45, the level of the 45 points decrement and the outlook for its future level.

IMPORTANT: Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and should not be used to assess the future returns or risks associated with this Plan.

THE UNDERLYING

EXAMPLE: The table below illustrates the required level of the Index on the corresponding Observation Dates for the Plan to produce a Potential Investment Return.

Observation Date	Kick-Out Barrier	FTSE 100 Equally Weighted 45 Point Decrement Index
Start Date	Opening Level	1050
Observation Dates 2-28	100% of Opening Level	1050
Final Observation Date	100% of Opening Level	1050

Please note the levels quoted above are for illustrative purposes only. The actual Opening Level of the Underlying will be set on the Start Date of the Plan.

IMPORTANT: Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and should not be used to assess the future returns or risks associated with this Plan. It is important to note that you will not be entitled to receive the dividends that could normally be available if you had invested directly in the shares of the companies constituting the Index.

RISKS INVOLVED IN THE PLAN

Counterparty Risk
By investing in this Plan, you are taking a credit risk with the Counterparty. It is their responsibility to make the payment of any return of capital and income payments due from the Investments. However, in the event of bankruptcy or payment default by the Counterparty, you may be exposed to a partial or total loss of capital.

Market Risk
If a global economic recession occurs, the financial markets may become much weaker. The markets can also be disrupted by political or climatic events. Changes in economic policies, tax rates, or interest rates can affect the performance of the Underlying.

Inflation Risk
The value of your investment and any returns you may qualify for are not linked to inflation. If inflation is high over the term of the Plan, the real value of the Plan may decrease thus affecting the real value of any returns you may receive.

Early Redemption Risk
If you sell your investment early, you may get back less than your Initial Investment back. You may not be able to sell your Plan easily or must sell at a price that will impact how much return you get back.

Liquidity Risk
The Issuer of the Securities and/or Counterparty aims to provide, but cannot guarantee, a secondary market for the Securities during the Investment Term. However, certain market circumstances may have a negative impact on the liquidity of the Securities and result in the partial or total loss of your Initial Investment.

Subscription Risk
If the Plan is oversubscribed your application may not be accepted, and any payments received in excess of the total trade size initially agreed will be returned.

Decrement risk
The fixed point deduction may lead to lower returns than traditional price or total return indices, especially in falling markets where the decrement represents a larger percentage of the index level. It is worth noting that historically, the 45 point deduction has exceeded the average gross dividends of the constituent companies. For example, at an index level of 957.40 (as of 25/09/2026), the 45 point decrement equated to 4.70%, compared with an average gross dividend yield of 3.87% over the previous year. This example is for illustration only and does not indicate future performance.

If the index performs poorly or declines, the fixed deduction will continue to apply, which may significantly reduce the index return and may result in lower returns for investors. As a result, the index may underperform the standard FTSE 100 price index over time.

FEES AND CHARGES

Causeway Fees
Our costs and charges for managing, marketing and administering the Plan have been factored into the structure of the Plan and the returns the Plan is designed to pay. These charges equate to 1.30% of your Initial Investment. No charges are deducted from your Initial Investment or from any potential returns you may receive from investment in the Plan, instead they are paid to us by the Counterparty. The exact amount can be affected by various factors during the offer period.

You may wish to speak with your financial adviser regarding the Fair Value Assessment of this Plan. Financial advisers should refer to the Adviser Guide. Please contact us should you require further information on the process we follow to assess fair value.

Adviser Fee
Causeway Securities requires that applications to invest in the Plan are submitted through a regulated financial adviser. The amount of any Adviser Fee payable for their service is something you should discuss and agree with your adviser.

Causeway Securities will pay the Adviser Fee, deducted from the money you have sent, to your adviser's firm.

The amount of any Adviser Fee must be set out in your application. If you change your mind about investing after your application has been accepted, it is likely that your Adviser Fee has already been paid to your financial adviser and Causeway Securities will not be able to return the authorised Adviser Fee to you.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

How much am I able to invest?
The minimum Investment amount is £3,000. The full amount will be invested in the Plan unless you have instructed a payment to be made to your adviser as a fee from this amount. The amount invested will then be the full amount minus the adviser fee.

You can invest through an ISA. For the 2026/27 tax year, the ISA allowance is £20,000. The 2026/27 tax year runs from 6 April 2026 until 5 April 2027.

Can I change my mind?
Yes. You have the right to change your mind and cancel your investment. You will be issued with a cancellation notice when your Plan Application is accepted.

If you want to cancel your Application, we must receive your completed cancellation notice within 14 days from the date we send it to you. Cancellation notices should be addressed to Causeway Securities Limited PO Box 1378, St Albans, AL1 9SX.

If we receive your cancellation notice prior to the Start Date, we will cancel your Application for the Plan and you will receive a refund of your Initial Investment (in other words, your Payment less any Adviser Fee that has been authorised).

If we receive your cancellation notice after the Start Date, we will cash in your Plan, and you will receive the market value of the Plan on the date that we complete your cancellation instruction. This may be less than you invested if the value of the Plan has fallen.

If I cancel my investment, what happens to any Adviser Fee?
If you decide to cancel your investment, we may have already taken and paid your authorised Adviser Fee to your adviser. This means that you would need to contact your adviser to discuss whether they can return the fee to you.

What happens if the Plan is oversubscribed?
When a Plan is in the process of being constructed, an initial trade size is agreed between Causeway Securities and the Issuer of the Securities. The amount of investments received and the amount raised is closely monitored and when approaching the initial trade size, Causeway Securities discusses increasing the size of the trade with the Issuer of the Securities to accommodate any additional investments.

On occasion, the two parties may be unable to agree on viable terms to increase the trade size and as a result, the initial trade size may represent the maximum amount that can be accepted into the Plan. In this instance, the Plan will be closed early, and any Payments received in excess of the total trade size initially agreed will be returned to the Investor.

What information will I receive?
You will receive an annual statement on the value of the Plan. This document will be made available via the Client Portal on our website. Access rights to the site will be forwarded to you by us.

You can also contact us byphone (+44 28 9592 6119), email (ukdealing@causeway-securities.com) or write to us (Causeway Securities Limited, PO Box 1378, St Albans, AL1 9SX) if you want any other information about the Plan.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

Can I cash in my Plan before it matures?
Yes, you may encash some or all of your Plan before the Maturity Date but take into consideration the fact that Potential Investment Returns are structured on the basis that the Plan runs until Maturity. An early encashment may result in you receiving an amount that is less than you originally invested. You may encash your Plan by providing us your written instruction to that effect.

We allow partial withdrawals, but there is a minimum withdrawal amount of £500. The repayment of your Initial Investment when the Plan matures will be based on the amount you have left invested in the Plan.

The proceeds will then be repaid to you as per your instructions or in the case of an ISA, retained in your ISA. Please refer to Clause 8 of the Plan Terms and Conditions for more information on early encashment.

What happens if I die?
Single applicants: If you die before the Plan matures, your estate can choose whether to cash in the Plan or transfer ownership to a beneficiary. If the Plan is cashed in, we will pay the market value as of the date we sell your Plan. If your estate chooses to transfer ownership to a beneficiary, the Plan will continue until it matures. In all cases, the Plan will be managed in line with the instructions provided by your personal representatives or as part of probate or administration.

Joint applicants: Plans held jointly by a married couple will transfer automatically to the name of the surviving partner. For other joint applicants, the Plan will be managed in line with the instructions provided by your personal representatives or as part of probate or administration.

What should I do if I want to complain?
We have a comprehensive complaints procedure that adheres to the principles of treating customers fairly. If you wish to make a complaint, this can be made verbally, by telephone or in person, or via a written communication delivered in person, via post, e-mail or fax. In the first instance, the complaint will be handled by our Complaints Officer, who will conduct an initial investigation and attempt to reach a fair and impartial conclusion.

If you are not satisfied with the way your complaint is dealt with you can refer your complaint, free of charge, to the Financial Ombudsman Service at Exchange Tower, London, E14 9SR Telephone: 0800 023 4567 Website: www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk
Referring to a complaint does not prejudice your right to take legal action.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

What happens if Causeway Securities becomes insolvent?
Causeway Securities is responsible for designing, promoting, distributing and administering the Plan and monitors the performance of the Plan throughout its term. Therefore, when submitting an application to invest you will be agreeing to become a client of Causeway Securities. The client relationship will be between you as the client and us. We will be responsible for providing all documentation and making payments to clients from the application stage to Maturity.

Causeway Securities is responsible for administering your investment on your behalf for the term of the Plan. Strict rules relating to the administration of client monies and assets dictate that there must be segregation between a client's holdings and that of the company acting as custodian. Therefore, should we encounter any financial difficulty, neither your money nor your investments should be affected. Your payment will be held in cash prior to the purchase of your investment and following its maturity.

During these periods, your money will be held in a segregated client money bank account with an authorised and regulated Bank or Building Society. In the unlikely event that we would enter administration during either the period prior to the purchase of the securities or after the maturity of the Plan, your money will be returned to you by the insolvency practitioner. Should we enter administration during the term of the Plan the insolvency practitioner would facilitate the transfer of your investment to an alternative administrator and custodian. In the event of any shortfall in the client monies or the nominee position in relation to your investment held by Causeway Securities under current regulation up to £85,000 will be covered for each investor by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). For more information, please refer to Clause 28 in the Plan Terms and Conditions.

If you have additional questions, please contact your financial adviser.
